Visiting Teaching Message

In his Sunday morning address of the April 2011 general conference, President Thomas S. Monson said:

“If you have not yet been to the temple or if you have been but currently do not qualify for a recommend, there is no more important goal for you to work toward than being worthy to go to the temple. . . . Do nothing which will keep you from entering its doors and partaking of the sacred and eternal blessings there.”

President Monson encouraged members to “make whatever sacrifices are necessary to attend the temple and to have the spirit of the temple in our hearts and in our homes.”

He continued, “If you have been to the temple for yourselves . . . your sacrifice could be setting aside the time in your busy lives to visit the temple regularly. “

Of the temples, President Monson promised: “In this sacred sanctuary we will find peace; we will be renewed and fortified.”
